This fun, week-long day camp takes young students on an exciting musical adventure! Together, we'll explore all kinds of music - from different times, places, and styles - and discover what makes each one sound unique.

Through games, listening activities, and hands-on exploration, students will learn how instruments, rhythms, and musical choices create the sounds we love. They'll get to try instruments, experiment with making their own music, and explore new styles in a creative and supportive environment.

Perfect for curious young learners, this class encourages imagination, active listening, and a love of discovering how music works.
